ARMS AND ARMOR OF OLD JAPAN

AND OTHER ANCIENT OBJECTS OF INTEREST

AMERICAN ART GALLERIES, NEW YORK
CATALOGUE OF
ARMS AND ARMOR
OF OLD JAPAN
EXAMPLES OF THE FAMOUS MIYOCBIN'S, AND OTHERS CELEBRATED FOR THEIR WORK IN METALS ALSO
SWORD GUARDS, KNIFE HANDLES, PEWTER, CARVINGS, BROCADES AND OTHER OBJECTS OF INTEREST TO AMATEURS AND CONNOISSEURS GATHERED ON A RECENT VISIT TO JAPAN BY BUNKIO MATSUKI

To Be Sold at Unrestricted Public Sale on the dates herein stated. The Sale will be conducted by Thomas E. Kirby of the American Art Association, Managers, New York:
1905
ON FREE VIEW
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4th, AND FOLLOWING DAYS, FROM 9 A.M. UNTIL 6 P.M.

ARMS AND ARMOR OF OLD JAPAN

TO BE SOLD AT UNRESTRICTED PUBLIC SALE
On FRIDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS
FEBRUARY 10th and 11th, at 2.30 o’clock

AT THE AMERICAN ART GALLERIES
MADISON SQUARE SOUTH, NEW YORK
PREFATORY NOTE

Particular interest attaches at this time, when everybody is full of admiration for the manner in which the Japanese armies are waging their contest against the Russian forces in the Far East, to such a collection as Mr. Bunkio Matsuki has brought together of the weapons of offence and defence with which anciently the spirit of samuraihood was trained. In every helmet and breastplate, in every dagger and lance of the present exhibition there is, for whoever can read it, a fascinating story—just as there is always something of that admirable art which the old-time craftsmen loved to apply to every object of usefulness.

A number of the examples of armor now shown in the American art galleries were secured from famous daimyo families with whom Mr. Matsuki was fortunately brought into contact during his visit to Japan last year, for, such have been the exigencies of war-time, many scions of honored lineage have been willing to part, pro patria, with treasures to which they would otherwise have held most tenaciously—arms borne by their ancestors, antique mirrors and various other objects of rare workmanship. The names of these families for obvious reasons cannot be given in the catalogue.

A portion of this exhibition, consisting of choice pieces of armor and very famous blades, came to Mr. Matsuki through Mr. Choga Imamura, director of the military museum at Tokyo. To the kindness of this celebrated expert is due also not a little of the information regarding the craftsmanship of the Miyo-Chin family which appears in the following pages.

For his initial interests in the collection of Japanese armor Mr. Matsuki wishes to acknowledge special indebtedness to Professor B. Dean, of Columbia University, a connoisseur whose admirable gathering of the best specimens of ancient craftsmanship first prompted the thought of arranging the present exhibition.

FREDERICK W. COBURN.

Boston, February 1, 1905.
CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. The highest bidder to be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot so in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

2. The auctioneer reserves the right to reject any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance, and therefore, in his judgment, likely to affect the sale injuriously.

3. The purchasers to give their names and addresses, and to pay down a cash deposit, or the whole of the purchase-money, if required, in default of which the lot or lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

4. The lots to be taken away at the buyer's expense and risk upon the conclusion of the sale, and the remainder of the purchase-money to be absolutely paid, or otherwise settled for to the satisfaction of the auctioneer, on or before delivery; in default of which the undersigned will not hold themselves responsible if the lots be lost, stolen, damaged, or destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser.

5. While the undersigned will not hold themselves responsible for the correctness of the description, genuineness, or authenticity of, or any fault or defect in, any lot; and make no warranty whatever, they will, upon receiving previous to date of sale trustworthy expert opinion in writing that any painting or other work of art is not what it is represented to be, use every effort on their part to furnish proof to the contrary, failing in which, the object or objects in question will be sold subject to the declaration of the aforesaid expert, he being liable to the owner or owners thereof, for damage or injury occasioned thereby.

6. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can, on any account, be removed during the sale.

7. Upon failure to comply with the above conditions, the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited: all lots uncleared within one day from conclusion of sale shall be re-sold by public or private sale, without further notice, and the deficiency (if any) attending such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulter at this sale, together with all charges attending the same. This condition is without prejudice to the right of the auctioneer to enforce the contract made at this sale, without such re-sale, if he thinks fit.

8. The undersigned are in no manner connected with the business of the cartage or packing and shipping of purchases, and although they will afford to purchasers every facility for employing careful carriers and packers, they will not hold themselves responsible for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such services.

THE AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION, MANAGERS
THOMAS E. KIRBY, AUCTIONEER
FIRST DAY'S SALE
Friday Afternoon, Feb. 10, at 2.30 o'clock

1 Zashiki Ramma.
   Represents Fuji Yama and Tago Bay. Carved of Satuma cedar and delicately tinted.
   Length 60 in. Width 17 in.

2 Companion piece to the above.
   Represents Japanese junk boats anchored near pine tree on shore of Tago Bay.

3 Carved Panel.
   Chrysanthemum design carved in oak in high relief.
   About 1720. Length 18 in. Width 12 in.

4 Temple Ramma.
   Carved of oak. Design, stork's nest in pine grove.
   About 1650. Length 50 in. Width 16 in.

5 Small Carving.
   Chrysanthemum design.
   Length 9 in. Width 4¼ in.
6 Temple Altar Stand.
   Rare old example. Elaborately carved with design of lotus flowers. Richly gold lacquered.
   Height 7¼ in. Length 10½ in.

7 Small Ramma.
   Tiger in bamboo grove. Gold lacquered.
   Length 24 in. Width 7 in.

8 Companion piece to the above.
   Chrysanthemum design.
   Length 22 in. Width 4¾ in.

9 Pair of Narrow Panels.
   Chrysanthemum flowers growing on rock. Gold lacquered.
   Length 24½ in. Width 2½ in.

10 Small Ramma.
   Peony flower design, richly gold lacquered.
   Length 25 in. Width 3 in.

11 Small Shrine Ramma.
   Peony flower design, gold lacquered.
   Length 15½ in. Width 1¾ in.
12 Temple Screen.

Four-fold. Iris design throughout on ornamented panels. Lattice work lined with gold silk.

Height 7\(\frac{1}{2}\) in. Width of each panel 16 in.

13 Temple Screen.

Four-fold. Lotus design in central panel of each, wave design at bottom, floral design at top.

Height 7\(\frac{1}{2}\) in. Width of each panel 16 in.

14 Small Carved Panel.

Howo bird design, gold lacquered.

Length 7 in. Width 3 in.

15 Small Carved Panel.

Figures in plum garden.

Length 10\(\frac{3}{4}\) in. Width 3\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

16 Small Carved Ornament.

Buddhist angel playing with musical instrument.

Length 9 in. Width 3\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

17 Small Carved Ornament.

Two angels in golden clouds.

Length 9 in. Width 2\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.
18 Pair of Round Panels.
   Dragons carved in Yoshino fir tree.
   About 1800. Diameter 9 in. each.

19 Small Carved Ramma.
   Minute polychrome carving illustrating incidents of Shiba’s childhood.
   About 1790. Length 10\(\frac{1}{4}\) in. Width 3 in.

20 Pair of Round Panels.
   Dragons carved in Yoshino cedar and gold lacquered.
   About 1800. Diameter 7 in. each.

21 Temple Mirror Flame.
   Howo bird and cloud design, richly carved and painted in gold and various colors.
   Height 18 in. Width 13\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

22 Temple Carving.
   Lion lying down, carved in oak and gold lacquered.
   About 1700. Length 15 in. Height 6\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

23 Wood Carving.
   Cockerel carved in cedar and gold lacquered.
   About 1775. Height 9 in. Width 9\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.
24 Carved Panel.

Design of lotus plant in blossom, carved in low relief on weather-worn wood.

Length 51 in.  Width 8½ in.

25 Carved Panel.

Iris flowers carved in low relief on weather-worn wood.

Length 35 in.  Width 8 in

26 Pair of Embroidered Hangings.

Heron and tachibana tree on old Donsu silk.

Length 66½ in.  Width 25 in.

27 Mate to above.

28 Old Gold Brocade.

Kikko design in gold, on dull brick red ground.

Length 65 in.  Width 56 in.

29 Old Gold Brocade.

Known as Kame-Aya Donsu; conventional Howo design in gray and brown on deep blue ground.

Length 51 in.  Width 46 in.
30 Pair of Embroidered Hangings.

Peacock and pine tree on shira-cha (light tea) Donsu; blue brocade border.

Length 85½ in.  Width 28 in.

31 Mate to above.

Waterfall and rocks.

Length 85½ in.  Width 28 in.

32 Old Brocade.

Made from Priests' robe. Light brown, with conventional floral pattern in white, green, silver, and gold.

Length 87 in.  Width 46 in.

33 Green Brocade.

Imperial crests and conventional cloud design. Rare example sixteenth century.

Length 43 in.  Width 33½ in.

34 Embroidered Wall Hanging.

Sacred Howo bird on pale blue Donsu. Blue brocade border.

Length 72 in.  Width 39 in.

35 Old Brocade.

Peony design in ecru on dull brick red.

Length 83 in.  Width 53 in.
36 Old Brocade.
    Design. Emblems of longevity in gold and black on light brown ground.
    Length 79½ in. Width 52 in.

37 Old Brocade.
    Conventional design in dull blue and brown.
    Length 51 in. Width 51 in.

38 Pair of Narrow Hangings.
    Wistaria and iris embroidered on green Donsu.
    Length 57 in. Width 16½ in.

39 Mate to above.

40 Embroidered Hanging.
    Two crows and snow-laden pine tree.
    Length 86 in. Width 19 in.

41 Old Brocade.
    Chrysanthemum crest design on cream and gold ground.
    Length 79 in. Width 46 in.
42 Old Brocade.
   Hishigata pattern in black on rich golden brown with touches of gold.
   Length 76 in. Width 51 in.

43 Old Brocade.
   Peony pattern in brown on blue-green ground.
   Length 76 in. Width 54 in.

44 Old Gold Brocade.
   Floral design.
   Length 89 in. Width 43 in.

45 Old Brocade.
   Crest pattern in ecru and gold brown.
   36 in. square.

45A Old Embroidered Curtain.
   From old palace in Kioto.
   Height 80 in. Width 68 in.

46 Pewter Tea Jar.
   Bluish gray with dark spots. Green jade knob.
   About 1680. Height 3½ in.

47 Chinese Pewter Tea Pot.
   With pair of brass loop handles. Silvery gray surface.
   About 1750. Height 9 in.
48 Pewter Vase.
   Bluish gray. Incised Karakusa design.
   About 1600. Height 9\(\frac{3}{4}\) in.

49 Pewter Tea Jar.
   Spotted Shibuichi surface.
   About 1680. Height 9\(\frac{3}{4}\) in.

50 Pewter Tea Jar.
   Dark gray spots on Shibuichi surface. Rare example made by Goto. Seal.
   About 1630. Height 9 in.

51 Pewter Covered Dish.
   Lotus plant is delicately incised on the cover. Yellow amber knob.
   About 1750. Height 3 in.

52 Pewter Incense Box.
   Exceedingly rare specimen by famous Chin-zon-shu, celebrated Chinese pewter maker of Ming dynasty. Seal.
   About 1500.

53 Pewter Vase.
   Design of dragon in water and cloud delicately incised.
   About 1750. Height 9 in.
54 Pewter Jug.
   Komon pattern in relief.
   About 1775.  Height 6\(\frac{3}{4}\) in.

55 Pewter Tea Jar.
   Brownish mottled surface.  Within is gold lacquered.
   About 1520.  Height 4 in.

56 Pewter Incense Box.
   Uniform Shibuichi gray.  Amber knob.
   About 1700.

57 Pewter Koro.
   Kanaye form with tripod.  Incised karakusa pattern.
   About 1700.  Height 5\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

58 Pewter Tea Pot.
   Komon pattern.
   About 1700.  Height 6\(\frac{1}{2}\) in.

59 Pewter Tea Caddy.
   Fine Shibuichi tone.
   About 1750.  Height 5 in.
60 Large Pewter Tea Jar.
   Form of great dignity. Fine Shibuichi tone.
   About 1680. Height 14 in.

61 Pewter Vase.
   Flaring at top with two floral design handles. Incised with Howo bird design.
   About 1700. Height 7¼ in.

62 Pewter Tea Jar.
   In form of Kikyo flower.
   About 1740. Height 3 in.

63 Pewter Tea Pot.
   Plum blossom and poetry are delicately incised. White jade handle.
   About 1700. Height 4 in.

64 Pewter Tea Pot.
   About 1720. Height 4¾ in.

65 Pewter Tea Pot.
   In form of bamboo trunk. Landscape is minutely incised.
   About 1700. Height 5 in.
66 Large Pewter Tea Jar.
   In form of lotus flower. Very rare example. Seal, Suzuya Kuyemon.
   About 1610. Height 10½ in.

67 Large Temple Table.
   Elaborately ornamented with carved panels and brackets of chrysanthemum design. Richly harmonious gold and mirror, black lacquer.
   About 1650. Height 37 in. Length 68½ in.

68 Carved Wood Panel.
   Oblong with irregular edge, with design of squirrels in grape-vines laden with fruits. Weather-toned to soft gray and dark green. Important example of Ashikaga period.
   About 1525. Length 42½ in. Width 19 in.

69 Shrine Ramma.
   Kario, a celestial musician hovering among clouds and musical instruments. Fine old polychrome carving on gold lacquer background.
   About 1700. Length 34½ in. Width 13 in.

70 Companion piece to the above.

71 Companion piece to the above.
72 Pair of Temple Doors.

Part of Shiba Temple, Tokio. The two principal panels are ornamented with perforated carvings of sparrows in bamboo grove; the twelve square panels are filled with carvings of Howo birds, peony and lotus flowers. Richly decorated with metal kanamono.

    About 1650. Height 30 in. Width 12 in.

73 Carved Shrine Doors.

Beautifully proportioned and harmonious. Polychrome and gold. The upper portion is set with perforated Rammas of floral pattern with flying mountain pheasants.

    About 1680. Height 33 in. Width 18 in.

74 Carved Temple Hanging.

Figure of Fudo on cliff. Background partly perforated, partly solid. Carved of cedar. Natural grayish tone of wood preserved.

    Height 35½ in.

75 Old Temple Carving.

Contour of conventional cloud pattern. Pair of peacocks carved within. Gray cedar.

    About 1800. Height 14 in. Width 26 in.

76 Shrine Ramma.

    About 1700. Length 40 in. Width 7½ in.
77 Shrine Ramma.

Carved oak. Represents two dragons in water. Age has given deep, rich tone.

About 1500. Length 36 in. Width 4 in.

78 Shrine Ramma.

Polychrome carving represents lotus pool in full blossom. Rich gold lacquer frame. From one of Koyasan temples.

About 1480. Length 39 in. Width 4½ in.

79 Companion piece to the above.

Length 39½ in. Width 2½ in.

80 Carved Panel.

Bamboo grove with young sprouts. Perforated cedar. Note the amusing snails among the branches.

Height 38½ in. Width 12½ in.

81 Carved Panel.

Poppies and butterfly on lattice-work. Charming composition and harmonious gray tone.

Height 36 in. Width 8½ in.

82 Carved Panel.

Iris pond with luxuriant flowers. Lattice-work background. Gray cedar.

Height 36 in. Width 8½ in.
83 Temple Bronze Gong.
   With carved wood stand in form of lotus plant.

84 Temple Bronze Gong.
   With elaborately carved wooden stand.

85 Temple Screen.
   Four-fold. Carved polychrome panels of peony flower design inset in each lattice frame. Lined with Donsu brocade.
   About 1780. Height 75 in. Width of each panel 18 in.

86 Temple Cabinet.
   Hinged doors and various panels all richly ornamented with carvings of chrysanthemum, iris and plum blossoms.
   Height 41 in. Width 25 in.

87 Embroidery.

88 Brocade.
   Kio-Donsu, brown; design, orchid field. Flowers wrought with gold thread.
   Height 53 in. Width 78½ in.
89 Wall Hanging.
Cockerel and hen under bamboo tree on green Donsu.
Blue brocade border.
Length 35 in. Width 57 in.

90 Old Brocade.
Kodai pattern in brown and purple on pale blue ground.
Length 53 in. Width 37 in.

91 Embroidered Wall Hanging.
Lotus and heron on dull mahogany Donsu ground.
Delicate blue brocade border.
Length 91½ in. Width 61½ in.

92 Narrow Embroidered Hanging.
Flying duck and moon.
Length 53 in. Width 20 in.

93 Embroidered Wall Hanging.
Length 47 in. Width 65 in.

94 Pair of Embroidered Hangings.
Duck and mountain ash.
Length 68 in. Width 18½ in.
95 Mate to 94.

Heron and reeds.

Length 68 in. Width 18½ in.

96 Old Brocade Table Cover.

Centre of the cover is old Karanishiki silk. Rich brown tone with gold. Dull green brocade border.

Seventeenth century. Length 56 in. Width 56 in.

97 Palace Wall Hanging.

Old brocade. Represents a water-fall at the foot of which two peacocks disport themselves. Cherry tree in blossom on left side; hanging cliff with ancient beech tree, and trailing vines on right. Perfect in color. Rare green brocade border.

Length 83 in. Width 50 in.

98 Large Pewter Tea Jar.

Remarkable example of pewter work accomplished by Yazayemon of Kioto. Seal, Suzuya Yazayemon.

About 1580. Height 14 in.

99 Pewter Covered Box.

With crystal knob. Very costly example.

About 1750. Height 4½ in.
100 Pewter Tea Caddy.
   Cylindrical.
   Height 3 in.

101 Pewter Tea Caddy.
   About 1770.  Height 4 in.

102 Pewter Tea Caddy.
   Straight diamond shape.  Incised with dragon design.
   About 1730.  Height 5 in.

103 Pewter Tray.
   Very fine example.  Edge of the tray is skilfully per¬ forated.  Within, richly ornamented with inlaid work in bronze, is a design of dragon and cloud.
   About 1650.  Length 12 in.  Width 8 in.

104 Pewter Tray.
   Figures in pine grove.  Inlaid bronze work.
   Seal.  About 1680.  Diameter 11½ in.

105 Pewter Tray.
   Round with incised dragon ornament.
   About 1720.  Diameter 9 in.
106 Pewter Tray.
In form of melon.
About 1680. Length 12½ in. Width 10 in.

107 Pewter Bowl.
Octagonal flaring at the top. Beautifully inlaid in bronze, with design of birds and flowers.
About 1700. Height 7 in.

108 Pewter Bowl.
Beautifully decorated with various floral designs.
About 1720. Height 8 in.

109 Pewter Tea Jar.
Design of autumnal flowers is incised. Delicate Shi-buichi gray.
Height 7 in.

110 Pewter Tea Jar.
Dark gray spots. Green jade knob.
About 1700. Height 8 in.

111 Pewter Tea Jar.
Cream color jade knob.
About 1700. Height 4½ in.
112 Pewter Tea Jar.
Square. Each side has inlaid ornament. Design of flowers arranged in basket.

About 1730. Height 6½ in.

113 Pewter Covered Jar.
The cover is neatly incised with design of Japanese fishing net. Lower part is delicately incised with Karakusa pattern.

About 1680. Height 8½ in.

114 Pewter Tea Jar.
Dark shakudo black. Incised with a landscape; made in China about 1750. Umber knob. Seal, Moshikua.

Height 3¾ in.

115 Pewter Tea Jar.
Silvery gray, with darker gray spots. Ecru agate knob. About 1700. Height 6½ in.

116 Pewter Tea Jar.
Flowers and birds inlaid in bronze. Seal, Tendo.

Height 7 in.

117 Pewter Tray.
Ornamented with bronze inlay.

About 1700. Length 12 in. Width 8 in.
118 Statue of Amida Buddha.

Height of Buddha 23½ in.

119 Mate to above.

120 Carved Ramma.

Exceedingly rare old ramma of Kamakura era (thirteenth century). Rich polychrome carving of chrysanthemum bush, with vigorous composition of very realistically disposed flowers and foliage.

Length 54 in. Width 19 in.

121 Carved Ramma.

Howo bird and Kiri flower design. Mate to the above.

122 Carved Wood Panel.

Peacock with tail spread. Gray cedar.

About 1800. Height 12½ in. Width 14 in.

123 Carved Wood Panel.

Peacock with tail and wings spread. Gray cedar.

About 1800. Height 16 in. Width 14 in.
124 Shrine Ramma.

Polychrome carving, representing lotus pond. Faint touch of gold in blossoms. Dull deep tone due to age.
   About 1500. Length 49 in. Width 2½ in.

125 Shrine Ramma.

Polychrome carving, representing peonies. The excellence of the spacing is particularly notable. Gold lacquer frame.
   About 1750. Length 48½ in. Width 8½ in.

126 Pair of Chinese Cabinet Doors.

Minutely carved in very high relief, depicting scenes in the daily life of a mandarin. Elephant and lion in lower panels.

127 Chinese Temple Carving.

Carved of Canton oak. Groups of figures at centre and ends with compositions of potted plants between.
   About 1700. Length 30½ in. Width 4½ in.

128 Temple Frame.

Howo bird and Kiri flowers painted on gold background. Came from one of the old palaces in Kioto.
   About 1750. Length 24 in. Width 12½ in.
129 Carved Frame.

Temple ornament. Cedar covered with gold leaf. Peonies painted on background.
About 1780. Length 35½ in. Width 12½ in.

130 Small Ramma.

Polychrome carving of peonies. Oak is perforated in conventional fashion.

Length 28 in. Width 5 in.

131 Low Screen.

The pictorial panel, representing a cock and hen in a bamboo grove, is a thoroughly admirable painting—well balanced and decorative. The carved wood panel introduced into the space above the picture shows a pattern of Howo bird and chrysanthemum in high relief.

132 Temple Screen.

Two panels. Heron and lotus in circular design; lotus below.

Height 67 in. Width of each panel 25½ in.

133 Temple Bronze Gong.

With elaborately carved wood stand.

134 Temple Bronze Gong.

With elaborately carved wood stand.
135 Temple Bronze Gong.
    Small size, very fine quality.

136 Old Painted Panel.
    Tiger in bamboo grove painted on Satsuma oak; the frame is decorated with bamboo design.
    About 1700. Length 20 in. Width 13 in.

137 Gold Lacquer Panel.
    Tiger painted in gold on red lacquer background. Very interesting example.
    About 1680. Length 14 in. Width 10½ in.

138 Old Temple Panel.
    A square plaque with a statuette of Buddha seated on lotus stand. The figure gains distinction by being shown against the disc of gold lacquer. Rare example of fourteenth century.
    Length 17 in. Width 10½ in.

139 Carved Komainu.
    Painted wood, with crystal eyes. A type of the chosen messenger of the gods, always found about the entrance of a shrine. The lion characteristics are well in evidence. A work of great archaeological as well as artistic interest. By Zitsu-Guan of Nara. Thirteenth century.
140 Ancient Wood Carving.

About 1450. Height 14 in.

141 Ancient Wood Carving.

Dog-fu carved of Jindai cedar. Age has toned down to superb gray. From a Shinto Temple in Province of Yamato.

About 1300. Height 18 in.

142 Panel.

Kiri wood. Purchased by Mr. Matsuki from Mr. Wakai, a distinguished connoisseur of Tokio. A very famous work of art. As regards its origin the story goes that early in the eighteenth century Daimyo Tsugaru, a haughty relative of the Shogun, passing through a street of Tokio encountered near the Riogoku Bridge a humble potter, Ritsuwo, vending his wares. Struck by the beauty of the pots the artisan was showing, Tsugaru sent for him to come to his palace and live with him on terms of friendship and virtual equality. Artists both, the two men, of so unequal rank, collaborated in important works of which this is one. The verses — an encomium on the thirst-quenching powers of tea, and a plaint that the attendant is asleep when he should be making the tea — are Tsugaru’s; Ritsuwo did the genre decoration in pottery and mother-of-pearl, depicting the drowsy servant, the tea-room utensils, peacock plumes, a decorated screen, and potted banana plumes. The sentiment, admirably expressed in the suave lines and well-ordered colors of the composition, is of the quiet and restfulness proper to tea-making. The two pottery crests are also by Ritsuwo. The panel bears the signature of Haku-Gioku, the artist-name by which Daimyo Tsugaru was known.

Date about 1715. Length 56 in. Width 5½ in.

143 Carved Panel.
Lotus design carved in low relief on weather-worn wood.
Length 41 in. Width 7¾ in.

144 Pewter Banquet Dish.
Incised ornamentation of dragon and clouds.
About 1780. Diameter 15 in.

145 Pewter Tea Jar.
Exceedingly rare and beautiful example. Rich golden brown lustre.
About 1450. Height 5 in.

146 Pewter Tea Jar.
Rare example of work of Izumonokami. Delicate Shi-buichi gray. Has four loop handles. Seal.
About 1580. Height 9½ in.

147 Pewter Tray.
Chinese mandarin with horses. Inlaid in bronze.
About 1680. Length 11 in. Width 8 in.
148  Pewter Tea Jar.
    Spotted Shibuichi surface.  By Tazayemon.
    About 1570.  Height 9½ in.

149  Pewter Dish.
    Perforated rim.
    About 1800.

150  Pewter Tea Jar.
    Graceful form with Shibuichi lustre.
    About 1520.  Height 9 in.

151  Pewter Tray.
    Round, with inlaid bronze representing flying bats.
    Very rare Chinese pewter.  Seal.
    About 1580.  Diameter 10½ in.

152  Pewter Tray.
    Delicate Karakusa pattern, incised, of bluish Shibuichi gray.
    About 1680.  Length 13 in.  Width 9 in.

153  Pewter Tea Jar.
    About 1600.  Height 9¼ in.
154 Pewter Bowl.

Incised decoration around the rim.

About 1820. Diameter 9½ in.

155 Pewter Tea Jar.

Brown lustre on Shibuchi color. By Suzuya Gorobei.

About 1550. Height 8½ in.

156 Pewter Dish.

Perforated rim.

About 1800.

157 Pewter Tea Jar.

Spotted Shibuchi lustre.

About 1550. Height 8½ in.

158 Pewter Bottle.

Very rare example by Mimasakano Kami.

About 1580. Height 7 in.

159 Pewter Covered Box.

Hexagonal. Howo bird pattern; is incised.

About 1760. Height 4 in.
160 Pewter Tea Jar.

Beautiful Shibuichi lustre, Karakusa design, delicately incised. Rare example. Seal, Suzuya Kuzayemon.
About 1570. Height 5½ in.

161 Pewter Bowl.

Rare Chinese pewter. Seal, Odaiko.
About 1750. Diameter 8 in.

162 Pewter Incense Box.

Very fine Shibuichi gray. Incised with design of plum blossom and nightingale.
About 1750.

163 Pewter Square Box.

The cover is delicately incised with design of stork and clouds.
About 1790. Height 4 in.

164 Pewter Tea Jar.

Lion and peony design; elaborately incised.
About 1550. Height 9 in.
165 Ancient Korean Gong.

Bronze. One of instruments brought to Japan by conquerors. Originally used in military operations; now employed as part of tea-villa ceremonies. Deep full tone. About fourteenth century.

Diameter 17 in.

166 Ancient Korean Gong.

Diameter 14½ in.

167 Ancient Suzu-mushi Bell.

So called from the vibrations suggesting the hum of Japanese singing insect. The tone quality is the highest attainment in art of bell-casting. With finely wrought Tokko handle. Thirteenth century.

168 Old Temple Carving.

Represents entrance-gate of Buddhist temple. View outward on right reveals a pagoda, partly concealed in cedar grove, with two doves fluttering into the temple. On the left is standing figure of Niwo behind gate and wire screen. Architectural elements of the temple above. The work is one of great imaginative power.

Height 43 in. Width 21½ in.
169 Carved Panel.
    Rare old carving. Design of Shishi and peony flowers. Rich gold lacquer.
    About 1550. Length 12 in. Width 8½ in.

170 Carved Panel.
    Design of Howo bird hovering in clouds; rich polychrome carving.
    About 1750. Length 17 in. Width 7 in.

171 Carved Temple Panel.
    Polychrome. Design shows chrysanthemums on either side of a stream. Admirable contrast of black lacquer ground with gold overlay.
    About 1650.

172 Temple Carving.
    Celestial being holding lotus bud. Bright, unfaded colors.
    Length 13½ in. Width 7 in.

173 Four Carved Panels.
    Polychrome. Chrysanthemums within cloud design. Gold lacquer frame.
    Length 9½ in. Width 6¾ in. each.
174 Shrine Screen Doors.

Four-fold. Minutely perforated and gold lacquered. Lower part has four carvings of graceful floral design. About 1650. Height 48½ in. Width 12 in.

175 Temple Cabinet.

Hinged doors. Very beautifully composed design richly wrought in polychrome carving. The bamboo and sparrow decoration on the upper part is dull green. The two principal panels on the screen doors are carved with design of lotus flowers. Height 50 in. Width 26 in.

176 Temple Cabinet.

Four-fold hinged doors. Upper panel is design of squirrels in grape-vines. The doors are ornamented with round panels carved of peacock patterns and square panels of flowers of four seasons. Height 42 in. Width 30½ in.

177 Pair of Carved Panels.

178 Pair of Carved Komainu.
Height 12 in.

179 Carved Komainu.
Bearing sacred Renza or lotus seat on his back. Very rare example of thirteenth century.
Height 9 in.

180 Pair of Carved Panels.
Peony flowers.
Length 16¼ in. Width 3¼ in.

181 Pair of Temple Doors.
Part of Peacock Temple, Kai province. Built under direction of Tokugawa Oman-no-Kata about 1630 and demolished in 1875. Mirror is of black lacquer with gilded metal ornaments and perforated polychrome coverings set against ground of the same mirror-black. The four principal panels respectively represent peacocks and peony flowers. The other four panels below depict bamboo groves, and several minor panels are filled with carvings of plum blossoms and wave designs.
Height 41 in. Width 16¼ in.

182 Pair of Tea-House Rammus.
Iris pool with lattice-work background.
183 Pair of Temple Carvings.
   Polychrome. Body of the ornament is oak upon which Howo bird has been inlaid.
   Diameter 16½ in.

184 Pair of Temple Carvings.
   Polychrome. Plum-blossom design.
   Length 19 in. Width 9½ in.

185 Carved Temple Panel.
   Peacock, with spread tail.
   Height 23½ in. Width 16½ in.

186 Pair of Temple Panels.
   Each panel of red lacquer with perforated carving of lotus pool inset.
   Height 28¾ in. Width 10 in.

187 Palace Carving.
   Represents pheasant and two chicks in bamboo grove.
   Height 14¼ in. Width 23¼ in.
188 Old Temple Doors.

Polychrome. Figures, in high relief, of Kario and Bingwa, celestial musicians descending. The former plays a flute, the latter a pair of cymbals. Spirited and lively in line to accord with sentiment of the music. Rich resonant color. Gold lacquer lotus pool below.

189 Tea Room Panel.

Pair of crows perched on plum tree covered with snow.
About 1800. Length 52 in. Width 3⅜ in.

190 Pair of Post Panels.

From a Buddhist temple near Kioto. Elaborately carved and gorgeously decorated with various colors and gold. Hanging metal ornaments.
Length 45 in. Width 11 in.

191 Pair of Post Panels.

Similar to the above.

192 Pair of Palace Carvings.

Crest of chrysanthemums of sixteen petals, carved in cedar and gold lacquered. Part of Momoyama Palace.
About 1585. Diameter 13 in.
193 Pair of Palace Carvings.
Crest of Kiri flower. Richly gold lacquered from Momoyama Palace.
About 1585. Height 13¼ in. Width 12¼ in.

194 Pair of Wood Carvings.
In form of gold sword guard; one is carved of dragons, the other of Howo birds.

195 Temple Carving.
Warrior on horseback. Oak coated with gold lacquer.

196 Temple Carving.
Flying dragon in oak coated with gold lacquer.

197 Temple Carving.
Dog-fu carved in cedar and colored.
Height 11 in. Width 6½ in.
198 Wood Carving.

Motive of flying stork in oak, lacquered.
About 1760. Length 18½ in. Width 13 in.

199 Companion piece to the above.

200 Carved Panel.

Dog-fu and peony flower carved in oak.
About 1500. Length 12½ in. Width 8 in.

201 Carvings from Old Castle.

Of Yoshino cedar. Pigments originally applied have nearly disappeared, leaving an especially fine gray quality. Represents peacock on cliff among peony blossoms. Rare example of beautiful sculpture in wood. By Katagiri of Awa.

About 1780. Height 58½ in. Width 27 in.

202 Companion piece to above.

Pair of lions on cliff amongst banana trees.
OLD JAPANESE FIRE-ARMS.

Weapons of percussion were introduced into Japan about the middle of the sixteenth century, and were from the first made skilfully by famous iron-workers. During the nearly three centuries of peace of the Tokugawa period fire-arms came to be regarded not so much as weapons of offence as splendid ornaments. They were borne by the attendants of daimyos on all state occasions. Upon their adornment the highest artistic skill was lavished. As a result they are often found to be among the most beautiful examples of Japanese workmanship — as thoroughly decorative to-day as in the piping era of national prosperity for which they were made.

203 Bronze Cannon.

Workmanship proves that the gun was not cast, but that its ornamentation was chiseled. Dog-fu and peonies in middle high relief on barrel. Crest of Daimyo Mori.

Length 18 in.

204 Flint-lock Gun.

Crest of Daimyo Omura of Kushu. Has dragon, precious stone, and cloud on barrel, sign denoting longevity on butt, and plum blossom crests on stock.

About 1810. Length 54 in.

205 Flint-lock Gun.

Crest of Daimyo Todo of Ise. Howo bird and peony, inlaid in brass, on barrel. Letter Kano on butt, signifying probably the regiment to which the owner belonged. Chrysanthemum crests on stock.

About 1810. Length 54 in.
206 Flint-lock Gun.

About 1810. Length 54 in.

207 Flint-lock Gun.

Crests of Daimyo Omura of Kushu on barrel and butt. Dragon inlaid in silver and clouds of brass on the barrel. Chrysanthemum crests on stock.

About 1810. Length 54 in.

208 Flint-lock Gun.

Crest of Daimyo Omura of Kushu on barrel. Letter Kano on butt. Dragon in silver and bronze and one cloud on barrel.

About 1810. Length 54 in.

209 Naginata.

Used by women warriors. Inlaid with mother-of-pearl.

Date about 1750. Length 106 in.

210 Naginata.

Imperial kiri crest decorated in gold lacquer on mirror-black handle.

About 1800. 93 in.
211 Trident Spear.
Plain oak handle, partly ornamented with mother-of-pearl.
About 1770. Length 97 in.

212 Trident Spear.
Plain Kashi tree handle.
About 1780. 88 in.

213 Spear.
Plain oak handle, part finished in gold lacquer.
About 1780. 121 in.

214 Quiver, with Arrows.
Containing twenty-five arrows.
About 1720. 22 in.

215 Naginata.
Kuyo crest. Black lacquer and conventional gold pattern.
About 1800. 90 in.

216 Set of Shigeto.
About 1800. 84 in.
217 Old Bow and Arrows.
   Base ornamented with dragon fly.  28\(\frac{3}{4}\) in.

218 Iron Arrow Head.
   Perforated decoration, conventional plum blossom. Signature, Sukekane, fourteenth century.

219 Iron Arrow Head.
   Shaped like fish tail. Signature, Sukechiyo. Thirteenth century.

220 Collection of Steel Arrow Heads.
   Fifteen arrow heads, each different in shape and design, representing Kamakura to Tokugawa periods. Nearly all bear signatures of famous armor makers. With iron stand.

221 Collection of Arrow Heads.
   Eleven steel arrow heads, different shapes and designs, representing Kamakura to Tokugawa eras, nearly all bearing signatures of famous makers of armor.

222 Collection of Arrow Heads.
   Seven steel arrow heads, different in shape and design, representing Kamakura to Tokugawa eras, nearly all bearing signatures of famous makers of armor.
223 Spear.
In form of long sword. The sword handle, which is richly decorated in gold lacquer with crest of Lord of Harima, conceals spear blade.

About 1700. Length 81 in.

224 Ancient Korean Arrow Head.
Central letter signifies a votive offering. About thirteenth century.

225 Naginata.
Plain oak handle, partly ornamented with mother-of pearl.

About 1750. 85 in.

226 Trident Spear.

About 1780. 104 in.

227 Trident Spear.
Handle is inlaid with mother-of-pearl.

About 1800. 104 in.
228 Trident Spear.
Handle is inlaid with mother-of-pearl.
About 1800. 104 in.

229 Spear.
Mother-of-pearl inlaid handle.
104 in.

230 Spear.
Mother-of-pearl inlaid handle.
104 in.

231 Trident Spear.
Handle is inlaid with mother-of-pearl.
About 1800. 104 in.

232 Pair of Stirrups.
Sacred kirin inlaid in silver. Seventeenth century.
233 Pair of Stirrups.
    Dragon and cloud design inlaid in silver. Seventeenth century.

234 Pair of Stirrups.
    Small plum crests inlaid in silver. Seventeenth century.

235 Pair of Stirrups.
    Crests of Kuyo and other small crests inlaid in silver. Seventeenth century.
411
Showing the Side and Back.
SECOND DAY'S SALE
Saturday Afternoon, Feb. 11, at 2.30 o'clock

236 Iron Helmet.

Cast iron. Evidently not Japanese. The workmanship suggests Mongolian, perhaps Tartar influence. It was held for generations in a family of Samurai. Possibly belonged to a captive Tartar general. Noble in contour and proportions. Traces of design in each of four sections. Age uncertain; probably not later than Yueng dynasty. Thirteenth century.

Height 10 in.

237 Helmet.

Iron. In two sections. The middle band, half-way between visor and hachimanza, is common in early helmets; those, like this, whose sections detach, are rarer. Conventional ornament about hachimanza. Neck-guard missing. Side-guards of iron. Signature, Kosei.

About 1550. Height 9 in.

238 Helmet.

Incised date 1855. Height 10 in.
239 Helmet.
   About 1580. Height 6½ in.

240 Helmet.
   Date 1720.

241 Helmet.
   About 1670.

242 Helmet.
   Rare pointed form. Sixteen plates and eighteen rivets in each row. Signature, Saotome Iyechika.
   About 1535.

243 Jingasa.
   Iron, repousse. Dragon and cloud. The ornament reinforces the shape admirably.
   Diameter 15½ in.
244 Jingasa.
Iron, repousse, of very irregular shape. Dragon and clouds.
About 1760.

245 Jingasa.
About 1500. Diameter 14¼ in.

246 Mailed Sleeve.
Reinforced by large and small pieces of iron of various shapes. Sixteenth century.

247 Mailed Sleeves.
Iron pieces to reinforce mail. Seventeenth century.

248 Mailed Sleeves.
Circular iron plates over upper arm; seven small bars on forearm. Crest of Todo. Sixteenth century.

249 Mailed Sleeves.
Upper arm protected by five semi-circular bars; lower arm by four vertical bars; elbow by iron boss and small plates surrounding. Bamboo crest of Daimyo Sendai on hand. Fifteenth century.
250 Jingasa.

Wrought iron. Sixteen plates, riveted. Earliest form and one of rarest in existence.

About 1400.

251 Jingasa.

Iron. Sixteen plates. Shape of type called by the Japanese "fujigata," or "similar in form to Fuji mountain." Carnation crest.

About 1650. Diameter 17 in.

252 Breastplate and Backplate.

Iron, with leather backing, suggesting the mediæval European cuirass. Both front and back are laminated, the former in nine plates, the latter in ten plates. Embroidered "epaulieres," or shoulder-pieces. The iron has the dull gleam which is so characteristic of the best Japanese workmanship and which differs from the brilliancy of European armor of the same sort. Each plate has a repeating design of conventionalized floral or leaf ornament. Thirteenth century.

Height 17 in.

253 Breastplate.

Iron, with plum blossom crest.

About 1550.
254 Iron Hanging Lantern.

In form of a pleasure-boat. In each of the four windows against the lantern-paper, through which light shines, are silhouetted two Japanese figures. Along the bottom of the boat are breaking waves.

About 1800.

255 Bronze Lantern.

Spaces between bars cut out. Odd shape with good proportions. Nineteenth century.

Height 13 in.

256 Jingasa.

About 1630. Diameter 14 1/4 in.

257 Sword Guard.

258 Two Sword Guards.

Shibuichi, bronze and gold. Chrysanthemum in centre. Figure represents a shojio, or wine fairy, in bachanalian revel, holding turtle above his head. Signature, Masa- yo-shi.

About 1780.

Chrysanthemum and honey-bees in Shibuichi and gold. Signature, Miboku.

About 1840.
259 Two Sword Guards.
   Shibuichi, gold and silver. Pair of herons under willow tree. Signature, Ishikuro Masayoshi.
   Date 1830.

Sword Guard.
   Shibuichi. Three doves, perfectly characterized.

260 Two Sword Guards.
   Iron. Represents a revel by moonlight. Perfect balance of figure of man, wine jar on bench, and cloud in sky.
   Iron. Dancing figure and two frogs.

261 Two Sword Guards.
   The one, iron. Motive, a rabbit in moon in sukashi (incised.) Wave design, delicately tooled in low relief. The other a group of monkeys in sukashi. By Akasaka. About 1670.

262 Two Sword Guards.
263 Two Sword Guards.

About 1770.

264 Sword Guard.

Shakudo, Shibuichi and gold. Lotus pool. Signature, Ichijio.

Date 1800.

265 Three Sword Guards.

Date 1775.

Other two are rare Higotsuba.

266 Sword Guard.

Iron, with gold inlay. The rim is in imitation of a bamboo rod. Two tigers are realistically represented in the act of slinking along the ground. By Tadatoki.

About 1740.

267 Sword Guard.

Iron, silver, and gold. Fighting cocks in high relief. Remarkably interesting and well executed specimen. Signature, Masayoshi Ishikuro.

Date 1830.
268 Sword Guard.
Iron. Figure of Niwo with uplifted tokko in high relief. Falling cherry petals in gold and silver suggesting late spring in Nara. Reverse side ornamented with mask and floating toy. Signature, Miboku.
Date 1800.

269 Sword Guard.

270 Nobuiye Sword Guard.
Date about 1550.

271 Two Sword Guards.
One, iron, showing maple leaves floating on a stream. Attributed to Umetada.
Date 1800 A.D.
The other, iron, with Toro bug and evening-glory vine. Signature, Sekibun.
Date 1810.

272 Two Iron Sword Guards.
One shows design of monkey reaching for the reflection of the moon in the water below. The other depicts a cowboy leading a cow home.
Date about 1550.
273 Two Sword Guards.
One, of iron, depicting a pair of crows and the moon, and signed by Ippu; the other, of iron, showing Dog-fu, and signed by Naotoshi.
Both about 1750.

274 Two Sword Guards.
One, in iron, bronze, and gold, shows grasshopper on melon vine; the other, a dragon fly and spider. Both late eighteenth century.

275 Two Iron Sword Guards.
Designs of rural life in low relief. Signature, Kaneiye.
Date about 1600.

276 Sword Guard.
Dragon in Shibuchi, coiled within silver rim. Signature, Hidetomo.
About 1850.

277 Sword Guard.
Design, Hanaikada (fallen plum blossoms on raft). Rare quality of shakudo and gold. Signature, Masanaga.
About 1780.

278 Two Iron Sword Guards.
One shows design of flying stork above waves; the other sacred rabbits near seashore. Both rare examples of fifteenth century workmanship.
NOTE. — The following twelve iron sword guards represent the highest type of Japanese craftsmanship. They are of the class known as Higo Tsuba, made in the province of Higo Kiushu. Exquisite qualities of silhouette distinguish them, together with a fine, brownish tone that only the skilful sword decorators, working in Higo in the seventeenth century, were able to impart to the iron. As so often has happened in the history of art, the excellence of the work of these craftsmen was appreciated and promoted by an art-loving nobleman — in this instance the Daimyo Hosokawa. Among the prominent metal workers we find Shigeharu, Shigeyoshi and Shigenitsu. This very rare collection was purchased by Mr. Matsuki from an ancient Samurai family of Higo.

279 Higo Tsuba.

Iron, very rich brown. Branch and twigs of plum tree in blossom. Very delicate and charming design. Shigeharu was famed for the tender, melting quality of line in his ornament. His thought seems to move slowly, lovingly from point to point. He especially affected plum-tree motives. By Shige-Haru. Seventeenth century.

280 Higo Tsuba.

281 Higo Tsuba.

282 Higo Tsuba.

283 Higo Tsuba.

284 Higo Tsuba.

285 Two Higo Tsubas.
One, orchid blossom pattern, with delicate gold inlay. The other, a conventional stork with uplifted wings. Both pieces by Shige-Tsugu. Seventeenth century.

286 Two Higo Tsubas.
One has sukashi work (incised) of Japanese harp and sword. The other a conventional representation of new moon and grass leaves with dew-drops. Both works by Shige-Mitsu. Seventeenth century.
287 Two Sword Guards.

Iron. The one represents a boatman passing beneath a bridge. The other shows three storks hovering in the sky, the lines about them standing for conventionalized clouds. By Akasaka.

About 1760.

288 Two Sword Guards.

One, iron with gold and silver inlay. Two warriors near cliff. The other, hermits and Howo bird. Signature, Naosada and Soten. About seventeenth century.

289 Two Sword Guards.

One, Sentoku bronze and gold inlay, tiger coming forth from a cave. Signature, Hiro Yoshi.

Date 1790.

The other, Hotei with bag and stick. Signature, Jioi.

Date 1770.

290 Two Sword Guards.

One, iron with butterflies and kiri crests in superb sukashi, or incised, work. The other, a Japanese junk with spreading sail. Signature, Kinai.

Date 1650.
291 Two Sword Guards.
   Iron, with gold inlay. Sasaki and Kajiwara, two Kamakura warriors, crossing Uji River on horseback. Signature, Yoshihisa Tamagawa, famous metal worker of Mito.
   Date 1680.
   Iron. Fuyo flower, chiseled in relief. Signature, Umetada.
   Date 1770.

292 Two Sword Guards.
   Iron, bronze and gold. Bishamon in pursuit of a devil who had stolen his treasure.
   Date about 1750.
   Iron with gold inlay. Yorimasa and Hayata destroying the beast, Nuye, a disturber of the palace. Signature, Kane-nori.
   Date 1600.

293 Two Sword Guards.
   Iron and bronze. Two figures meeting on a bridge. Reverse side has charming rural scene.
   Date about 1550.
   Iron and gold. Design is Tamagawa. Pair of rabbits in sukashi (incised). Signature, Yasu-chika.
   Date about 1720.
294 Jingasa.
About 1650. Diameter 16½ in.

295 Jingasa.
Diameter 17¾ in.

296 Jingasa.
About 1500. Diameter 14 in.
NOTE. — The following panels, containing various pieces of armor and other wall decorations, are of a kind adopted in the houses of Samurai where they serve a decorative purpose and remind of the deeds of ancestors.

297 Panel of Small Weapons.

Frame holding Mempo, with gorget and collection of sixteen spear heads representing styles of various ages.

Height 34½ in. Width 24½ in.

298 Panel of Small Weapons.

Frame containing black lacquer jingasa adorned with gold and red dragon; twenty-three arrow heads of various periods and one spear head.

Height 30 in. Width 22¾ in.

299 Panel of Small Weapons.

Similar to the above, with red lacquer jingasa.

300 Metal Wall Ornament.

From Samurai home. Leather-covered wooden panel, framed with four iron pieces adorned with gold and silver inlaid work. On it are hung six sword guards and two attachments of bridle bits.
301 Mempo Mounted on Fan.

Representing manner of displaying ancient face-armor common in families of Samurai. Mempo is of iron, with large bronze eyes and gray mustaches. Gorget of two plates. The fan of black lacquer. Tokugawa crest.

Height 16 in. Width 22 in.

302 Stag's Horn with two Swords.

Used frequently in Samurai homes as rack for hanging ancestral swords. Its fitness for the purpose is obvious.

303 Tray.

Iron repousse, with gold and silver inlay. Buddha (indicated by the halo) appears on rock while dragon lifts his head from waves.

About 1650. Length 16½ in. Width 13¼ in.

304 Tray.

Iron repousse, with gold and silver inlay. Toro insects (a species of Japanese grasshopper) on beanstalk. Also butterfly.

About 1650. Length 16½ in. Width 13½ in.

305 Mayedate.

The ornament in front of a helmet. Iron. Two dolphins guard a precious stone. Rare and exquisite craftsmanship. Only the most skilful armor makers were capable of these delicate creations in wrought iron. The motive proves it to be the work of the Muyo-Chin family. About fifteenth century.

Length 6 in.
306 Writing-box.

Iron repousse. Swallows and weeping willow. Apparently work of an armor maker of eighteenth century.

Length 9 in. Width 7½ in.

307 Korean Stirrups.

Iron. Conventionalized dragons' heads facing each other. Probably of fifteenth century. Korean art of this sort is very rare.

Height 5½ in.

308 Shield.

Iron repousse, of rich brown tone. Dragon rising from waves. Probably belonged to one of body-guard of some daimyo. Rare type of about sixteenth century.

Length 18 in. Width 12 in.

308a Folding Shield.

Thirteen plates woven together by cord. Top plate has repousse ornaments. Very rare example.

About 1500.

308b Commander's Baton.

Handle and tip ornamented with silver and bronze, bearing wistaria crests. Chinzei (large tassel attached to tip of baton used in signalling) is of strips of fine old leather.

Date about 1700 A.D.
308c Old Battle Fan.

Carried anciently by commander. Decoration, red sun on gold lacquer field. Gold moon on red field.

309 Breastplate and Backplate.

Iron with bronze inlay. Rimbo crest behind. Representation on breastplate of Marishiten (Hindu Marut) riding his wild boar among the clouds. Very rare and important example.

About 1750. Height 16½ in.

310 Breastplate and Backplate.

Iron. Excellent example of the iron-workers' art. The great symbol on the breast stands for Fudo, the subduer of devils.

About 1450. Height 18 in.

311 Breastplate.

Iron, repousse with gold ornament applied. Figure in medium high relief is of Nami-kiri Fudo, portraying the divinity in the act of cleaving the waves. Signature, "Miyochin Munesuke made this at Yedo, second year Kioho" (1717 A.D.)

Length 13½ in. Width 9 in.
312 Breastplate and Backplate.

The equipment is known in the Japanese as gakido. Front and back are modelled with astonishing realism to accord with the anatomy of the human figure encased between them. Each consists of a single piece of iron. The shoulder-pieces are in three parts hinged together, the smallest piece representing an oak leaf. On each of the other pieces appears a Sanskrit character standing for a war god of India.

About 1600. Height 19 in.

313 Mailed Sleeves.

Small round iron plates inlaid with gold crests above elbow; five bars below. Belonged to Daimyo Masuyama. Fifteenth century.

314 Mailed Sleeves.

Small hexagonal plates above the elbow constituting an equivalent to the mediæval European demibrasarts; a row of eleven iron bars protecting forearm. Hand guarded by two pieces. Beautiful gold brocade under mail. Crest of Daimyo Okubo. Sixteenth century.

315 Haidate.

Mail protection for the upper part of legs. Hexagonal plates sewed into mail. Seventeenth century.

316 Mail Breast-piece.

Reinforced by large and small iron plates. Central circular plate bears dragon and clouds in gold. About fifteenth century.
317 Shoulder Guards.

318 Japanese War Drum.

319 Kozuka.

320 Kozuka.

Sentoku bronze, gold and shakudo. Design early autumn; the stag calling to the new moon in melancholy prescience of the waning year. By Yokoya Soyo. Seventeenth century.

321 Kozuka.

Iron, Shibuichi and gold spray of millet in high relief. Signature, Jiomyo. Date 1720.
322 Kozuka.

323 Kozuka.

324 Two Kozuka Handles.

325 Two Kozuka Handles.

Shibuichi. Couchant tiger and bamboo. Signature, Ishikuro Yoshi-haru. Date 1830.

326 Two Kozuka Handles.

Shakudo. Gold inset, with ants carrying eggs. Signature, Katsu-mori. Date 1700.

327 Two Kozuka Handles.

Shakudo and gold. Procession of noblemen. Antique fashion.

About 1650.

328 Kozuka Handle.

Date 1810.

329 Kozuka Handle.

Shakudo, with gold dragon. Excellent in workmanship.

By Goto Yen-jio.

Date 1780.

330 Kozuka Handles.

Iron, with relieved ornament of plum blossom in gold.

Iron, with Shibuichi and gold figures. Mice gnawing codfish.

About 1780.

331 Two Kozuka Handles.

Shakudo. A drove of horses. Signature, Goto Injio.

Date 1680.

Shibuichi. A drove of horses.
332 Two Kozuka Handles.

_Shibuichi._ Japanese warrior crossing a river on horseback.

_Shakudo._ Five warriors escaping in boat from battle. Signature, Mitsu-Shige.

Date 1800.

333 Two Kozuka Handles.

_Shibuichi._ Bat. Signature, Nawo-Yuki.

Date 1750.

_Shakudo._ Rabbits among spring flowers. Signature, Naga-tsune.

Date 1780.

334 Two Kozuka Handles.

_Shibuichi_ and _shakudo._ Sailboats on the sea beyond Fujiyama.

_Shibuichi._ Flight of chidori, or wild fowl. Signature, Natsuwo.

About 1870.

335 Two Kozuka Handles.

_Shakudo._ Mouse gnawing rice husks. Signature, Haruaki.

Date 1820.

Tiger and bamboo motive. Gold filigree. Signature, Nobusada.

Date 1800.
336 Two Kozuka Handles.

Iron, with birds finished in shakudo. A lakeside scene.

About 1550.

Bronze. Autumnal design with flight of wild geese over lake.

About 1750.

337 Two Kozuka Handles.

Shakudo and gold. Pleasure boat in moonlight. Signature, Goto Denjio.

Date 1712.

Date 1790.

338 Two Kozuka Handles.

Iron. Figure of Niwo. Signature, Nawo-Yoshi.

Date 1750.

Date 1750.

339 Kozuka Handle.

Date 1769.
340 Kozuka Handle.

Date 1785.

341 Sword Hilt Tops.

Two sets. Dragon, vehicle and lion on bamboo-covered cliff in gold and shakudo. By Goto.

Date 1770.

342 Sword Hilt Tops.

Three sets. Wild geese and chidori over waves by Naomitsu; rabbit by Shige-mitsu.

Date 1740–1780.

343 Sword Hilt Tops.

Three sets. Gold eagle by Tsune-michi; gold lion by Masanawo; gold rabbit by Seiju. All costly specimens.

Date 1740–1780.

344 Sword Hilt Tops.

Two sets. Gold tiger by Bijio; gold dragons by Goto.

Both about 1790.
345 Sword Hilt Tops.

Three sets. Rabbit and vine by Nara; eagle by Yeiju; rabbit and reed grass by Shige-mitsu.
1760–1800.

346 Sword Hilt Tops.

Three sets. Insects, tigers and falcon in shakudo and gold. All by Goto.
Date 1780–1810.

347 Sword Hilt Tops.

Date 1790.

348 Sword Hilt Tops.

Three sets. Iron and gold. Figure of Rawan by Kikwan; tiger and bamboo by Kane-sada; lizard by Naokuni. All famous masters of sixteenth century.

349 Sword Hilt Tops.

Two sets. Shibuichi and gold. Owl by Yasu-chika; mouse by Tsune-nao.
Both about 1720.
350 Sword Hilt Tops.

All about 1740.

351 Helmet.

Iron, with bronze rim and hachimanza. The cap is in sixty-two plates, each pierced by twenty-five rivets. On the neck-guard, which is in five plates, is red silk cord designating the owner's rank. A charming design in bronze runs along the edge of the visor and side-guards. Worn by a commander of daimyo army. Signature, Saotome Iyechika.

About 1535. Height 7½ in.

352 Prehistoric Helmet.

About 400 A.D., according to M. Fukuchi, author of "L'Histoire de L'Art du Japon," the work published by the Japanese Imperial Commission at the Paris Exposition, 1900. It closely resembles the helmet (Fig. 9) shown on page 30 of M. Fukuchi's book, differing mainly in having no visor and no hole (called by the Japanese "hachimanza") at the summit of the dome. The body of the helmet is of narrow iron plates, riveted at top, bottom and at the central band. There appears to have been no ornamentation — a proof of the antiquity of the helmet, since all but the very earliest examples bear decorative motives on the metallic bands. It was exhumed at Hiogo from an old tomb.

Height 8 in.
353 Helmet.

Iron. Cap in two plates, the front plate greatly elongated and projecting over the back of the helmet. The backplate has semi-circle of beautifully conventionalized chrysanthemums, apparently intended as part of hachimanza. The chrysanthemum crests on either side are those worn only by members of the imperial family. The rim of the visor is in imitation of a twisted cord. Very valuable example.

About 1300. Height 12 in.

354 Helmet.

Iron, with bronze inlay. Cap, in two pieces, is of momogata (or peach) form. On the visor there appear two dragons guarding a precious stone. Crests of Lord Nabeshima.

About 1500. Height 8 in.

355 Child's Helmet with Mempo.

About 1780.

356 Helmet.

Iron. Cap in six plates, held by conical rivets supported on star-shaped bronze and iron washers. Small hachimanza.

About 1700. Height 8 in.
359
Showing Profile.

Showing the Back.
357 Helmet.

358 Helmet.

Iron. Very tall. In two plates, that in front being bent forward slightly to form the visor. Neck-guard of six plates. The huge face in repousse is that of the imp, or Oni. This should take high rank among Japanese grotesques. Signature, Munesuke. About 1730. Height 15½ in.

359 Bronze Temple Helmet.

Wave design, with dragon protruding from water. One of type of votive offerings made by successful warriors. Probably of fifteenth century. Cast in one piece, and on that account a very rare example. High relief showing lion and two dragons, very notable in design. Height 8½ in.

360 Pair of Standard Bearers.

Constitute candelabra. Streamers on standard imitate leather. Four silver dragons carry rindo flowers as candle sockets. Armor of Toyo-tomi period (sixteenth century) is of beautifully wrought bronze. Modelling of faces and heads shows that it belongs to realistic period of craftsmanship. With teak-wood stand. Height 8 in.
361 Bronze Okimono.

Height 32½ in.

362 Bronze Okimono.

Armor of Tokugawa period (seventeenth century). Teak-wood stand.

Height 30 in.

363 Pair of Shoulder-pieces.

In form of turtle's back with horsehair attachment. Consists of nearly circular piece of brocade of rich texture to which nine over-lapping plates are attached by cords. Note how the wave-line of each plate complements the lines above and below it. Of type often worn as secondary defence. Probably fifteenth century.

Length 16 in.

364 Gold Lacquer Box.

Daimyo's travelling outfit. Tokugawa crests and Karakusa in gold lacquer.

About 1800.
365 Gold Lacquer Dipper.

Exceedingly rare example of sixteenth century. The dipper is lined inside with solid silver. From Daimyo Tamura of Mutsu. Used by daimyo’s hostler to dip up water from the river to water the horse.

Length 29½ in.

366 Pair of Banners.

Ground of scarlet rasha cloth, richly ornamented with metal. Gold-embroidered dragon crests on each.

About 1780. Length 24½ in.

367 Pair of Banners.

Same as above.

368 Jingasa.

Single piece of iron, with god Fudo in repousse. Signature, Myochin Munemasa.

About 1750. Diameter 17¾ in.

369 Jingasa.

Iron, repousse. Dragon, open-mouthed, among clouds.

370 Iron Tabi.

Guards over sandals protecting top of foot. Seven plates each. Green and gold brocade, covered in part with mail.

About 1730.
371 Jingasa.

372 Jingasa.
   Iron. Twelve plates. Signature, Myochin Muneharu.
   About 1650 Diameter 16 in.

373 Part of Armor.
   Worn by a maiden warrior. Very rare example.
   About 1760.

374 Breastplate.
   Iron, with repousse snail. Aside from the marvellous realism of the snail, the medium high relief employed is remarkably well done from a sculptural point of view. The lacquer still covering a portion of the breastplate was probably a late addition.
   Date about 1600. Length 15 in.

375 Breastplate.
   Iron. Two main plates. It bears the words “Forget not,” perhaps an adjuration to the soldier to be mindful of Nippon’s need.
   About 1600. Length 14 in.
376  General's Staff.

Iron, nearly rectangular shape. Carried by daimyo general as token of authority and as shield. Bears dragons and clouds in relief.

Length 22 in. Width 12½ in.

377  Large Iron Shield.

Lion's head at top and characters in centre in repousse. Lacquered within. A very unusual shape. Sixteenth century.

Height 30½ in. Width 19 in.

378  Armored Trappings for Horse.

379  Leather Shikimono.

Leather military rug, used by daimyo in camp to sit upon while issuing orders. Rare and beautiful. The central pattern contains peacocks amidst peonies. Surrounding this figure are storks, peonies and chrysanthemums. Within the long panel on one side are two still-life pieces and figure with small birds among roses and other flowers. Of Kang-hi period.

About 1660. Length 72 in. Width 47½ in.
380 Suit of Armor.

About 1738.

381 Suit of Armor.

About 1615.

382 Suit of Armor.

Complete. Very small and apparently worn by a youthful daimyo. Crest of Date of Sendai. In the style of Murasaki-Odoshi (or purple cord), characteristic of the highest rank. Floral brocade, light green with pink chrysanthemums.

About 1680.

383 Shell Trumpet.

Type of shell known in Japan as Horagai. Mouth-piece of bronze and gold lacquer. Remarkably beautiful shell. Tokugawa crest.
384 Stirrups.
  Iron, with syringa design inlaid in silver. Eighteenth century.

385 Stirrups.
  Iron, with peony design inlaid in silver. Seventeenth century.

386 Stirrups.
  Iron, with peony and lion design in silver, inlaid. Seventeenth century.

387 Shoulder-piece.
  Very rare old example. Gold lacquered over woven leather, with two dragon medallions painted in dull green and red.
    About 1400. Length 18 in. Width 12 in.

388 Three Sake Cups.
  Gold lacquer. Scenes along Sumida river: the largest one, Imado ferry; the middle one, Mimeguri; the smallest, Suijin. The figures of the geisha girls seeking refuge in their pleasure-boat from the rain are particularly dainty and charming in conception and execution. By Fusen.
    About 1800.
389 Three Sake Cups.

Gold lacquer. Each representing a different aspect of Fujiyama. Largest one from Kawasaki village; the middle one from Omori; small one from Shinagawa. Made by Kosai of Yedo.

About 1780.

390 Amber Beads.

Four beads of green jade in the chain.

391 Amber Beads.

Four beads of green jade in the chain.

392 Amber Bowl and Ivory Stand.

Lotus blossoms, leaves and stems are gracefully intertraced on the outer surface of the bowl. The stand, representing swirling waves, is tinted green.

393 Amethyst Seal.

Japanese amethyst of unexcelled quality. One of very few, containing water. Dog-fu handle.

394 Glass Ball and Bronze Elephant.

395 Bowl with Teak-wood Stand.

Hammered iron, with conventional tassel pattern inlaid in gold and silver.
About 1750. Height 5½ in.

396 Tobacco Pouch.

Deer-horn. Pipe-holder is of kind known as ashinaga (long-limbed). The pouch bears a bat's head with encircling arms. The back, with its suggestion of anatomical ribbing, deserves particular study. Ashinaga holds ojime. Delightfully quaint in conception and execution.
About 1800.

397 Medicine Pouch.

Iron, repousse, with iron netsuke. Figure, in high relief, is of Rakwan taming the dragon. Surely by one of the great armor makers.
About 1700.

398 Incense Burner.

Iron. By one of Miyo-chin. Triple rows of rivets, though serving the purpose only of ornamentation, are in imitation of the workmanship of the armor makers.
About 1680.
399 Incense Box.

About 1650.

400 Bronze Mirror.

An article of extraordinary significance. Three of the most eminent experts—Professor Ernest F. Fenollosa, Mr. K. Okakura, and Mr. K. Wakai, of Tokio, agree in assigning it to the T'ang dynasty, the period that represents the high-water mark in Chinese art, 618 to 907 A.D. It is a work of uncommon beauty, as well as rarity, a beauty conferred by its rich charm of design and the distinguished elegance of its modelling in middle and low relief, and by the exquisite bloom that such bronze achieves with the flight of a thousand years. Most such mirrors that have been found were so incrusted as to have lost much of their distinctive beauty, but this is uncommonly well preserved. The most famous collection of these mirrors is in the Shosoin, or imperial treasure house, at Nara; this one is not inferior to the best of the governmental possessions. The reverse side is concave and bears a garden scene, with fruits, birds and various animals in high relief. Through the largest creature in the centre is the hole by which the handle was attached. The patina, or olive-green tone, is well-nigh perfect. This mirror belonged to a daimyo who, fortunately for the collector, felt obliged to part with it in the early days of the present war as a contribution to the imperial treasury.

Diameter 6¾ in.
401 Tâng Dynasty Mirror.
Small round mirror, design similar to the above.
Diameter 4⅜ in.

402 Ancient Japanese Mirror.
Bronze, with dark patina. Dignified form characteristic of the work of Tempei era (eighth century), being the earliest example of bronze casting in Japan. Conventional lions and Howo birds in low relief.
Diameter 5⅜ in.

403 Large Mirror.
Diameter 10⅛ in.

404 Bronze Mirror.
Of Sung dynasty. Pleasing in color.
Diameter 4⅜ in.

405 Pair of Shoulder-guards.
Made of seven iron plates. Richly ornamented with wrought-out Kanamono. Woven with green silk cord. Rare convex form.
About 1680.
406 Mempo and Mailed Sleeves.
   Rare specimen of seventeenth century.

407 Pair of Greaves.
   Made with seven plates fastened by hinges and chains.
   Every rivet head is ornamented with crests.
   About 1650.

408 Silver Inlaid Helmet.
   Date 1554.

409 Breastplate and Backplate.
   Breastplate is elaborately hammered out in design of dragon rising from billows. Delicate silver inlaid work on the upper border. Famous armor belonged to Daimyo Akimoto. Four crests of the Daimyo in gold and iron repousse. Miyo-chin Mune-Toki.
   Date 1530.

410 Mempo and Mailed Sleeves.
   Iron mempo with gorget in two plates. Square plates in upper arm; long plates on forearm. Signature on mempo, Miyo-chin Mune-suke.
   Date 1720.
411
Front.
NOTE. — The following examples of rare workmanship were secured for the collector through the kindness of Mr. Choga Imamura, director of the military museum at Tokio, and universally recognized as the highest living authority in all matters pertaining to Japanese armor.

411 Old Japanese Armor, Fifteenth Century.

Breastplate and backplate. Repousse design of uncommonly masterful power. A vigorous conception appears in the great dragon amidst a swirl of the elements that suggests the sweep of an irresistible battle host. The dragon figure is carried around to the backplate. The metal is wrought iron, treated with some preparation preventing corrosion and at the same time imparting to the surface a quality of finish so fine as to address the tactile sense with a feeling of indescribable satisfaction. By Miyo-chin Yoshi-Michi.

About 1530. Height 17½ in.

412 Helmet.

Iron, sixty-two plates. One of rarest helmets in existence. It is the work of Miyo-chin Nobu-iye, who was one of the three recognized masters of the best period of Japanese iron-working. The other masters were Yoshinaga and Yoshimichi. Nobu-iye, son of the sixteenth Miyo-chin Yoshi-Yasu, was established about 1450 at Odawara in Sagami. His works are very highly prized by collectors in Japan. Severe nobility of form and curvature, together with beautiful surface quality, distinguish all his iron-work. A marked characteristic is the tompojiri or dragon fly's tail — the strip of iron fastened to the visor and holding the mayedate. Nobu-iye's signature and the date of making the helmet appear on the back, a very rare circumstance in Japanese iron-work. The verses under the visor are an assertion that the owner's life in time of the country's need is worth no more than a dew-drop vainly clinging behind a kuzu leaf and exposed to the chill winds of autumn. March sixth year of Tenbun (1537), Miyo-chin Nobu-iye.

413 Suit of Armor.

Complete. Breastplate and helmet are the work of Miyo-chin Mune-suke. The suit belonged to Daimyo Date of Sendai. The style bears the name of Murasaki-Odoshi (literally the purple cord). This style and the gold dragon on the helmet indicate that the armor was to be worn only by a daimyo of over one hundred thousand koku. The gold chevrons are styled Kin-Kozane—indicative of the most luxurious type of armor suits. Osode, or large shoulder-guards, in corresponding style. Shokko brocade of exquisite texture under the linked mail of the cuirass. From a famous daimyo collection.

About 1730.

414 Costly Mempo.

Iron. Probably finest mask in the collection. One of type rarely found. Characterized by pointed chin and sharp features. The plate containing nose and upper lip is removable, in order, doubtless, that the warrior may eat and drink without removing the mask. The profile is thoroughly noble. Attention should be called also to the perfect workmanship—the joining of the plates, the turning of the edges, and the modelling of the broad surfaces. The blackening of the teeth attests the exalted rank of the owner, for only nobles of the highest grade were allowed to dye their teeth black. The signature is that of Mune-mitsu of the eighth Miyo-chin family.

About 1300.

415 Costly Mempo.

Iron. Of the rare pointed chin type. High cheek bones, large nostrils and open mouth. The modelling is throughout very sculpturesque, and this is one of the strongest masks in the collection. The work of Miyo-chin Yoshi-ari.

About 1480.

416 Breast and Back plates.

Iron, with pendent plates. The breastplate bears the figure of Fudo, the subduer of devils, beautifully wrought in low relief. The burning flame which surrounds the god is inlaid in gold. The masterly execution in portraying a powerful aspect of Fudo, which beyond doubt was designed by Takuma, artist, on the point of Tagane, is indeed the crowning success of brilliant work of mediæval Myochin family. It has a more convincing conception of Buddhist art than appears in any works of the Goto family. The incised letters on the plate state it was made by two artists, Miyo-chin Yoshi-shige and Miyochin Shige-Sada, working in the old method devised by Mune-Suke, their renowned ancestor.

About 1550. Height 16 in.
417 Mailed Sleeves.

Small iron plates, with gold and bronze crests on upper arm; large plates, with butterfly hinges and plum blossom gold ornamentation on the lower arm. Gold brocade under mail.

418 Greaves.

Three large iron plates bound together with butterfly hinges, and bands of brocade. Leather backing.

419 Suit of Armor.

Exceptionally fine helmet of sixty-two plates, with twenty-five rivets in each row. Hachimanza is elaborately ornamented with wrought-out work of gold, Shibuichi and silver. Osode, or large shoulder-guards. The style of armor is known as Kon-odoshi, or navy blue silk cord. Crest of Lord of Island of Tsushima, who with hereditary pride guarded the Strait of Korea under Tokugawa government. Signature, Sao-tome.

About 1650.

420 Muramasa Tanto.

Small sword blade, length ten and three-quarters inches, made by Muramasa of Ise, who ranks as co-equal with Masamune, the two standing in a class entirely by themselves. These Muramasa blades, which are very rarely offered for sale, have appealed to the imagination of whole generations of Samurai. Popular sayings have grown up regarding them, as that “Once out of its scabbard, the Muramasa will not return unless covered with blood,” or “Nothing can defeat the Muramasa.” During the Tokugawa era no one was allowed to wear a Muramasa about his own palace or castle, so dangerous was this weapon esteemed. Its marvellous cutting quality is due, of course, to its forging and tempering, which manifest themselves in the Yahazu, or line of arrow-headed indentations along the blade. Together with the following blades it represents the most important part of the series of acquisitions gained by the collector from Mr. Imamura. Signature, Muramasa.

About 1340.

421 Gassan Tanto.

Small sword blade, length eleven inches. The workmanship of Gassan Toshi-mitsu of Dewa, a famous smith who flourished about 1390. Note extraordinary wavy mark on the surface of the blade. It is an admirable specimen of the kind popular among daimyos as gifts to each other on state occasions. Signed Gassan Toshi-mitsu.

422 Pair of Greaves.

Each of seven iron bars, connected by chains. Silver inlay with conventional pattern. Tomoye crest.

About 1550.

423 Mempo.

About 1550.
424 So-Mempo.

Complete mask, with gorget of two large plates.

About 1750.

425 So-Mempo.

Complete mask.

About 1800.

426 Mempo.

Very rare. Type of Muneyuki.

Date 1230.

427 Mempo.

Very fine example by Takayoshi.

About 1450.

428 Attachments of Bridle Bit.

Iron. Attached to either end of horse's bit to prevent biting. Nearly circular iron ring containing Kiri crest.
Note. — The following collection of Chinese pottery and rare satsuma faience came into Mr. Matsuki's possession quite unexpectedly, during his quest for armor. They are from an old Samurai family dwelling on the borders of the Satsuma province, who are closely connected with the family of Prince Shimazu. The examples, though not numerous, are of extraordinary excellence. Among them are specimens of the genuine decorated satsuma, as distinguished from the copies that so often pass under the names of satsuma in this country.

429 Large Vase.

Height 14½ in.

430 Large Vase.

Hâng dynasty. Full neck, swelling body and broad base. A green glaze, of which much of the lower part is covered with incrustation of terra-cotta clay.

Height 17½ in.

431 Large Vase.

Height 14¾ in.
432 White Satsuma Plaque.

Rectangular shape, with scalloped edges. Design represents a cock, in very high relief, perched on a plum tree and looking down at a frog in the waves. A remarkable work of art. From Shinto temple near Satsuma. Frame slightly restored in a few places.

About 1740.

433 Large Bowl.

Shallow. Original cream color, with wisteria decorations in dull green and red. Teak-wood stand.

About 1800.

434 Kwannon.

Resting on rock and feeding carp, not with material food, but with the all-satisfying grace of his divine presence. Robes gorgeously decorated.

About 1830.

435 Tall White Vase.

Bottle-shaped, with original Shakudo mounted cover. Form of great dignity and rich glaze with hard crackle-like marble. Three crests of Prince Shimazu portrayed in dark gray glaze. Most important specimen in existence; work of Korean potters settled in Satsuma.

About 1603. Height 21½ in.
436 Satsuma Jar.

Exquisite Amamori (rain stained) surface. Decoration, gnarled branches of plum tree in blossom. Various tones of the coral red blossoms are characteristic of the oldest type. Note soft green with touches of yellow and suggestion of clouds in delicate blue enamel. Made by Genami, by the order of Prince Shige-Hide Shimazu, the Lord of Satsuma.

About 1798. Height 11 in.

437 Korean Celadon.

Height 3 1/2 in.

438 Pottery Vase.

Height 14 in.

438a Pottery Vase.

Sung dynasty.

Height 4 1/2 in.
Dagger.

Blade eight inches. By Teru-masa, fifteenth century. Complete, including Kozuka. Various insects are used as ornamental motives. The scabbard has a background of gold lacquer on which a falcon has caught a pheasant. Very delicate inlay of mother-of-pearl on the pheasant's plumage. Metal ornaments are in Shibuichi, gold and Shakudo.

Length 13¼ in.

Dagger.

Plain blade, nine and one-half inches. Cherry handle and scabbard with horn tips and guard ornamented with procession of ants.

Dagger.

Dagger.

Blade, ten inches. Menukis, one silver and one gold, present tiger motives. Kozuka is Shakudo with horses in relief.

About 1750.
443 Dagger.

Blade, nine inches, by Sukemune, fifteenth century. Carved oak handle and scabbard, with gourd leaf pattern. Pair of Menukis show motive of snails in silver and bronze.

444 Dagger.

Plain blade, ten and one-fourth inches, signed by Kanefusa. Sixteenth century. Scabbard of betal-nut wood. Silver Kozuka. Menuki and other metal decorations are motive of peonies in Shakudo and gold.

445 Dagger.

Plain blade, seven and one-half inches long. By Mansaiye, of sixteenth century. Menuki are of solid gold. Kozuka of iron. Scabbard corrugated, with black pattern under red lacquer.

446 Dagger.

447 Dagger.

Blade, twelve and one-quarter inches, very fine quality, sixteenth century. Handle and scabbard are finished in corrugated carved oak. Menukis are dancing Sanbaso in Shakudo, gold and silver. Kozuka is iron inlaid with gold dragon.
Dagger.

About 1840.

Dagger.

Plain blade, eight and one-half inches, by Kane-tsugu, fifteenth century. Handle of shark-skin and whalebone with Shibuichi rakwan; bronze duck at head of hilt. Scabbard of gold lacquer, with silver snail ornament. Bronze Kozuka. All the decoration is executed by Shojusai.

1830.

Dagger.

Dagger.

Eighteenth century.
452 Dagger.

Plain blade. Handle and scabbard of pearl lacquer, with gold Tokugawa crests.

About 1820.

453 Dagger.

About 1720.

454 Knife.

Plain blade. Handle of gray lacquer; scabbard of same material with chrysanthemum ornamentation.

455 Miniature Sword.

All parts complete. Silver and gold guard. Handle of shark-skin and whalebone. Bronze and silver scabbard. Characterized by exquisitely dainty workmanship.

456 Dagger.

Plain blade. No Kozuka. Handle, a dragon's head of iron. Guard shows wings of two birds arranged in circular fashion. Iron scabbard with conventional incised ornamentation.

About 1750.
457 Dagger.

Plain blade. Handle and scabbard are of carved wood with deer horn guard. Dragon on one side, small panels with inscriptions and incised geometrical figures on the other.

458 Dagger.

Plain blade. Black lacquer handle and scabbard, the two combining to represent an elongated Howo bird with gold eyes. Form skilfully adapted to requirements of the weapon. No Kozuka.

About 1780.

459 Helmet.

Iron. Thirty-two plates, with round-headed rivets resting on star-shaped washers and graduated in size from bottom to top. Delicacy of workmanship emphasizes the truth that iron-working has become a lost art in Japan. Belongs to best period of Miyo-chin craftsmanship, though rather heavier than some of the creations of these famous smiths.

About 1550. Height 6 in.

460 Helmet.

Iron. Cap in seven plates, in form of melon. Neck-guard of lacquered iron. The rivets have pyramidal heads, the rows of which contribute to the decorative effect. The surface is delightfully mottled. Bears the signature Katsushige and belongs to about 1550.
461 Helmet.

Iron, repousse. The cap represents an inverted chrysanthemum, with the hachimanza as the base. The mayedaime, which has the maker's signature, is particularly fine and is of repousse iron, portraying a pair of lions. Five neck-guards. The side-guards are oak leaves, evidently the token of the owner's family. Signature, Miyo-chin Kino Yoshi-Omi.

About 1800. Height 10 in.

462 Helmet.

About 1750. Height 6 in.

463 Mempo.

Iron.

About 1650.

464 So-Mempo.

Complete mask. A very rare specimen. Face imitates the expression of Fudo. Signature, Nishimura Mune-Haru of Tosa.

About 1680.
465 Mempo.

About 1521.

466 So-Mempo.

Complete mask, with gorget ornamented with carved metal. Signature, Miyo-chin Mune-Suke.

Date 1680.

467 Helmet.

About 1510. Height 7½ in.

468 Helmet.

Iron. Of type designated in Japan as yeboshi, the lofty top, without hachimanza, suggesting somewhat the Homeric style of helmet. Neck-guard of five pieces of plate. Visor with bronze rim.

About 1750.

469 Helmet.

Iron. Cap in three pieces, one protruding over back of head. Neck-guard of six plates. The raised decoration in front consists of a lion, interestingly foreshortened, and of a peony bush. The blue-gray tone of the central plate is particularly admirable. Three crests of Todo on visor. Signature, Mitsu-hisa.

About 1700. Height 8½ in.
470 Helmet.

Iron, of momo-gata (or peach) pattern. Visor rimmed with bronze. Very heavy type.

About 1550. Height 6½ in.

471 Helmet.

Height 16 in.

472 Helmet.

Iron. Eight plates with irregular contours of so-called "cloud pattern." Surmounting is the tomo-hachimana — that is, hachimanza following out pattern of plates below.

About 1580. Height 6¾ in.

473 Helmet.

Iron, of very rich brown tone. So-called momo-gata (or peach) pattern. Cap is in six plates. Interesting contrasts of convex curve behind and concave in front. Visor rimmed with bronze.

About 1650. Height 6 in.

474 Helmet.

Iron. The substitution of a circular rim for the usual visor and neck-guard, together with the rotundity of the calotte, indicates a Tartar origin. The hachimanza is small and lofty. The repoussé ornamentation shows a rindo crest in front and two conventionalized lizards on the sides. The rim bears a running border with variety of forms.

About 1450. Height 10 in.
NOTE. — The two following suits of armor, however they may seem superficially to resemble certain other familiar types, are in reality exceedingly rare examples of a style cherished in only a few of the noblest daimyo families. The collector counted it not the least of his achievements when he secured them.

475 Hi-Odoshi Armor.

Scarlet military equipment of style reserved for the supreme commander. Every detail is of the period of 1570. According to a tradition in the daimyo family from whom this armor was secured, it was made for Oda Nobunaga shortly after he had appeared as conqueror of all the other daimyos of Japan. This occurred in 1567. The armor, which is very dignified in form, is remarkably well preserved, showing a subdued red of magnificent tone. The shape and ornamentation of the helmet are consistent with the Nobunaga era. Hi-Odoshi of this type is very uncommon. Attributed to Kunishige.

476 Unohana-Odoshi Armor.

Military equipment of soft green tone. Takes its name from its color, which resembles the fragrant leaves of the unohana, a favorite Japanese flower blossoming in April. This armor may be styled a maiden suit, since it is of the kind usually fashioned for a young man on the occasion of his first taking command of an army after a promotion. One of very few in existence. About 1650.
477 Jingasa.

About 1700. Diameter 17¼ in.

478 Iron Jingasa.

Military hat of antique type. Worn probably by a daimyo, or at any rate by a high-class warrior. A very fine work by one of the Miyo-chin. Consists of sixteen plates held together by eighty rivets. Loops inside were for cushions to protect wearer’s head. Exquisite swelling contour. Signature, Miyo-chin Munesuke.

About 1650. Diameter 18 in.

479 Iron Jingasa.

Military hat of upper-class warriors. Forty-eight thin plates of wrought iron, held together by forty-eight rivets, nearly invisible. Gold leaf plate inside. The mode of wearing is revealed by the cushions and cords underneath. Signature, Miyo-chin Munesuke.

About 1620. Diameter 16½ in.

480 Jingasa.

Iron motive of dragon and cloud in repousse. Rare example. By Masa-Haru of Odawara.

About 1790. Diameter 16 in.
481 Breastplate and Backplate.

Iron, with silver inlay. The swelling front of the breastplate, which is very beautiful, is also very rare. The back carries a suggestion of the anatomy of the figure in the depressions made for the shoulder-blades. The inscriptions on the front represent the powerful god Kuri-kara, who causes ninety-two kinds of evil to surrender, together with his attendant gods, Kongara and Seitaka. On the back are attachments, used evidently for upholding a standard. Probably worn by Japanese cavalryman. A remarkably fine piece of Ashikaga period.

About 1450. Height 18 in.

482 Suit of Armor.

About 1500.

483 Suit of Armor.

Breastplate shows kirin. Iron helmet.

About 1780.

484 Suit of Armor.

Breastplate of eight horizontal plates, with gold cloud pattern. Exceptionally fine helmet of sixty-two plates, with mayedate of gold lacquer deer's horn. Shakudo and gold hachimanza. Heavy arm covering with lacquered iron plates. Crest of Daimyo Inaba.
485 Cabinet Doors.

Iron, with bronze rims. They are from the library of an ancient castle, where they probably guarded valuable archives contained in a cabinet. Peacock on right-hand door; peahen on left. The contrast between the superb arrogance of the one and the humble contentment of the other is marvellously expressed. Overhead are conventionalized clouds. The doors taken together form an absolutely harmonious composition, complete in line and mass. The metals used are in splendid preservation. Unquestionably the workmanship of one of noted Miyochin family. Early eighteenth century.

Each panel, height 37½ in. Width 19¼ in.

486 So-Mempo.

Complete mask, with gorget. Large, full type. Signature, Miyochin Mune-Yasu of Kaga.

About 1550.

487 Mempo.

Iron. Of style known as yasurime (or filed). Very sharp angles. Strongly and richly riveted.

About 1750.

488 Mempo.

Iron. Of style known as yasurime (or filed). No rivets used in construction. Work of Miyochin Yoshiari.

About 1500.
489 Mempo.

About 1520.

490 Mempo.

Rare, masterful example by Miyo-chin Mune-mitsu.

About 1300.

491 Brocaded Jinbawori.

A sur-coat worn by daimyo over armor. Brocade is of fabric called in Japan shokko, of a magenta color. Cloud and dragon pattern.

About 1770.

492 Jinbawori.

About 1750.

493 Jinbawori.

Wool. Light ecru color. Worn by Samurai.

About 1850.
494 Mail Bodyguard.
Coiled iron links.

About 1750.

495 Coat of Mail.
Small iron plates, irregularly distributed and sewed into mail. Heavy cotton cloth. Sixteenth century.

496 Coat of Mail.

About 1750.

497 Mail Bodyguard.

About 1750.

498 Armored Sleeves.
Complete equipment for the arm. Fourteenth century.

499 Coat of Mail.

About 1750.
500 Mailed Cap.

Composed of small plates sewed into mail. Sixteenth century.

501 Coat of Mail.

Small iron plates on breast. Probably fifteenth century.

502 Coat of Mail.

Rings of iron and bronze, the latter so disposed as to give a series of vertical stripes. Seventeenth century.